

Winter Window Lookout

Nature Journaling Prompt #1

Did you know that you don't always need warm, beautiful weather to nature journal? In fact, you can nature journal from right inside your home - even when it's cold, windy, and rainy outside! Today's mission: pick any window in your house and investigate what you can see through it.

All About Today:

Date:

Place:

Time:

Weather:

Draw what you see when you look out the window:

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for drawing what is seen through a window.

What do you notice as you look out the window?

Do you see any trees? Mountains? Birds? Does the weather make it easier or harder to see?

1.

2.

3.

What do you wonder as you look out the window?

1.

2.

3.